Clients cannot cancel Limit Order(s) and/or Pending Order(s) when the relevant Market is closed. Client's instructions might be cancelled only if the Company has not acted upon those instructions. The Company has no liability for any claims, losses, damages, costs or expenses, including legal fees, arising directly or indirectly out of the failure of such order to be cancelled.

12.5 The Client accepts that once a Market Order(s) is/are placed, it/they cannot be revoked. The Client is aware that the Company is under no obligation to cancel Market Order.

13. REFUSAL TO EXECUTE ORDERS

13.1 The Client accepts that the Company shall have the right, at any time, to refuse at its discretion the provision of any service, including, but not limited to, the execution of instructions for the purpose of trading in Cryptocurrencies, without providing notice to the Client.

13.2 The Company shall refuse to execute order(s) if it has reasonable grounds to believe that the execution of a Client's order may:

- affect the orderly function of the market
- constitutes an abusive exploitation of privileged confidential information
- contributes to the laundering of illegal funds
- affects in any manner the reliability or orderly operation of the Online Trading Facility
- the Client's order related to the purchase of a Cryptocurrency or other financial instrument but there is insufficient free margin in the relevant trading account to cover such purchase and any applicable charges.
- abuse the negative balance protection either by placing instantly buy and sell market or pending orders in the same account or multiple accounts
- constitutes an abusive exploitation of prices

13.3 The Company reserves the right to refuse the execution of pending orders, modify the opening/closing price of open positions, place a specific instrument to close only mode, and/or close an open order and nullify all profits if a technical or other error occurs without any prior notice.

13.4 The Client accepts that if the Company was to refuse the execution of Client's order(s), under the Refusal to Execute Orders section, the obligations of the Client under the Agreement shall remain unaffected.

14. GENERAL TRADING CONDITIONS

14.1 Only the Client or the Authorized Representative is authorized to give instructions and Orders on the Account (in compliance with the Instructions and Orders section of the Agreement).

14.2 Market Hours

It should be noted that trading of certain Cryptocurrencies occurs during specific time frames which are provided on the Company's website under Trading Conditions. The Company reserves the right to change the market hours on a specific instrument without any prior notice if:

- The Company's price sources (Liquidity Providers) amended market hours
- There is not enough liquidity in the market

14.3 Price

- Bid – Ask Spread: For any given Cryptocurrency, the Company will quote two prices: the higher price ASK at which the Client can buy (go long), and the lower price (BID) at which the Client can sell (go short); collectively they are referred to as the Firm's price. The difference between the lower and the higher price of a given Instrument is the spread.
- The Client hereby agrees that the Company's prices shall be the only relevant prices for the Client's Orders and Transactions.
- The Client acknowledges and agrees that the Company is under no obligation to quote any specific price which is quoted in a specific Crypto Exchange.
- Any references of the Client to prices of other trading or information systems or of other Clients shall be disregarded. The Company has the right at its sole discretion to increase or decrease spreads on Cryptocurrencies depending on market conditions and Client's risk internal risk categorization profile.

The Client acknowledges that events such as changes in the Financial Markets, hard forks, news announcements, political and economic events or periods of low/high liquidity may result in wider spreads. The Client acknowledges and agrees that Spreads may widen at any time and without prior notice and that there is no limit to how wide Spreads may be.

14.4 Orders Execution Policy

14.4.1 The Company shall receive, execute and transmit all Orders strictly in accordance with the Trading Conditions. The Company will have no responsibility for checking the accuracy or the logic of any Order.

14.4.2 The Company has the right to refuse to execute the order in compliance with the Refusal to Execute Orders section of the Agreement.

14.4.3 Types of Orders

The Company shall provide the Client with an option to place, following order types:

- A Market Order which is an order that the Company makes every effort to execute at the best available price. All orders are matched through the Company's order book (Depth of Market), which is visible in the clients' trading terminal before entering the market. The final price is based on the weighted average price through the layers depending on the size of the order. More information is provided in the Company's website under the Trading section.
- A Limit Order which is an order to sell an instrument at no less than a specific price or buy an instrument at no more than a specific price. The Client may attach a stop loss and/or a take profit before the order is executed. Once the order is executed it automatically becomes a Market Order and the same conditions apply as Market Order.
- A Pending Order or an Entry Order which is an order to be executed at a later time and a price that the Client specifies. When the price reaches the price specified by the Client, then the order becomes a market order. Negative and positive slippage applies to pending orders. The Client has the option to place the following pending or entry orders:
 - I. A Buy Limit Order, which is a pending or entry buy order placed below the current market price. If the market price drops to the level of the buy order that order is then triggered.
 - II. A Buy Stop Order, which is a pending or entry buy order placed above the current market price. If the market price rises to the level of the buy order that order is then triggered.
 - III. A Sell Limit Order, which is a pending or entry sell order placed above the current market price. If the market price rises to the level of the sell order that order is then triggered.
 - IV. A Sell Stop Order, which is a pending or entry sell order placed below the current market price. If the market price drops to the level of the sell order that order is then triggered.
 - V. A Buy Stop Limit order which is the combination of Buy Limit and Buy Stop orders, being a stop order to place a Buy Limit order. As soon as the future Ask price reaches the stop-level indicated in the order (the Price field), a Buy Limit order will be placed at the level, specified in Stop Limit price field. A stop level is set above the current Ask price, while Stop Limit price is set below the stop level.
- A Trailing Stop Order which is a stop loss order set in terms of points (pips) level below the market price – for a long position and above the market price – for a short position. The trailing stop price is adjusted as the price fluctuates.

14.4.4 Such orders as Buy Limit, Buy Stop and Stop Loss/ Take Profit for opened short positions are executed as ASK price. Such orders as Sell Limit, Sell Stop and Stop Loss/Take Profit for opened long positions are executed at BID price. All orders once triggered are executed as Market Orders at the best available market price.

14.5 Size of Order:

- The size of an Order is expressed in lots. The minimum and the maximum order size may depend on the account type and/or asset class and/or particular instrument. The Company reserves the right to alter the minimum and/or maximum order size at any given time. A detailed information regarding available order sizes can be found on the Company's Internet Website.

14.6 Costs

- The Client is charged a spread, financing/premium or commission, if applicable, in some Cryptocurrencies. Commissions and Financing are not incorporated into the Company's quoted prices but charged separately. A detailed information regarding costs is provided in the Company's website under the trading section.

14.7 Upon closing a Transaction, and subject to any applicable adjustments for interest and dividends in accordance with this Agreement:

- The Company will pay the Client the difference between the price in which the Transaction was opened and the price in which the Transaction was closed, multiplied by the number of units of the Underlying Instrument that comprise the Transaction if the Transaction is a buy Transaction and the Transaction's closing price is higher than its opening price or a sell Transaction and the Transaction's closing price is lower than its opening price.
- The Client will pay the Company the difference between the price in which the Transaction was opened and the price in which the Transaction was closed, multiplied by the number of units of the Underlying Instrument that comprise the Transaction if the Transaction is a buy Transaction and the Transaction's closing price is lower than its opening price or a sell Transaction and the Transaction's closing price is higher than its opening price.

14.8 Margin Call

A Margin Call occurs when the Account's equity is about to drop below the margin requirement needed to maintain open Transaction(s). The Margin Call is set at the 150% equity-to-margin ratio. If the equity-to-margin ratio shall continue to drop, a Stop-out may occur.

14.9 Stop-out

- A stop-out Occurs when the account's equity drops below the margin requirement needed to maintain open Transaction(s). If the equity continues to drop, reaching 100% equity-to-margin ratio, Trading Platform will automatically start closing open positions (starting with those with the highest losses) to prevent zeroing out of the account. The Client should note that a Stop-out may occur even if the Account is fully hedged. When an account is fully hedged, the equity is affected by the floating PnL. If the spread widens, the floating PnL will increase. In this case, if floating PnL > equity, the account will get stopped out.
- When you open a position utilizing all of your funds it means that your margin level % will be near to 100%, which is the Stop out level % set by the Company. The Trading Platform cannot take under consideration the cost of spread before initiating the position, therefore, when the position is opened, and spread is taken into consideration your account margin level % may be equal or drop below 100% causing the stop out to trigger. You are solely responsible to ensure you have sufficient funds before entering into a position.

14.10 It is the Company's policy that the Client's Balance in the Account will never fall below zero. In the event that a Position is closed at such price causing the Equity to fall below zero, the Company shall waive its right to receive the balance from the Client (Negative Balance Protection).

14.11 Slippage

Due to fast moving markets, all type of Orders as disclosed in the General Trading Conditions section of the Agreement will be executed at prices worse or better due to Negative or Positive Slippage, although the Company will take all reasonable steps to provide Clients the best available price. It is important to note that Slippage does not affect the Negative Balance Protection and therefore the Client will never lose more than the amount invested (including any profit, if gained), even if a slippage occurs. In addition, transactions in some instruments which are not traded on a 24 hours basis, may experience a Market Gap on a daily basis and are therefore more susceptible to slippage.

14.12 Market Gap

The Client understands that a Market Gap may occur due to abnormal market conditions and/or as a result of the price difference between the closing and opening price. In case of a Market Gap, the Company shall execute all pending limit or stop orders at the first available market price for the corresponding position size.

15. ORDER ADJUSTMENTS

15.1.1 The Company reserves the right to suspend, close or unwind any Order/s which has resulted from any miss-configuration, technical error, bad pricing, and/or if the Company suspects any fraud, manipulation, arbitrage or other forms of deceitful or fraudulent activity in a Client's account or multiple accounts with the Company or otherwise related or connected to any other Orders. Under such circumstances, the Company shall be entitled to withdraw any profits and charge any costs which it deems, in its sole discretion, to have been inappropriately gained and shall not be liable for the cancellation of any order or profits or in the event of any damages or losses which may result from the suspension, closure or unwinding.

15.1.2 After a concluded and endorsed investigation that was carried out on behalf of a Client, if an order or multiple orders were executed at a loss due to system miss-configuration, technical error, and/or bad pricing, the Company will take all necessary actions to restore such a loss accordingly.

15.3 In the event of clause 15.1.2, the Client agrees that he/her can not claim any additional refund if the market order or market orders affected would have had a positive outcome if assumed open.

15.4 Order Adjustment Procedure

- All order/s adjustments shall be performed with a balance correction equivalent to the amount resulted after the investigation was carried out and shall be reflected in the Client's account Balance.
- In the case where a market order or multiple market orders executed at a bad price, the Company reserves the right to compensate the Client only with the price difference between the bad price and the actual market price at the moment of occurrence.
